

Serving customers locally is one of the cornerstones of customer focus for Vaisala.

Vaisala strengthens its presence in India

Vaisala is strengthening its office network by establishing a Liaison Office in New Delhi, India. The office is located in the Regus Business Center, and is the first Vaisala office in India.

Vaisala's business in India is headed by Mr. Sami Haga, Regional Manager. The New Delhi office will initially represent Vaisala's weather observations product offering. Vaisala will also continue to partner with its long-term local Indian agents.

"Serving customers locally is one of the cornerstones of customer focus for us. We have some well-established customer relationships in India. With this improved presence we are able to serve existing and new customers in the area even better," says Weather Sales and Marketing Director Matti Ervasti. ■
